The Program
Students completing this program will have demonstrated:
- description of the principles and patterns of growth and development in the cognitive, physical and motor; communicative; emotional; and social domains
- critical evaluation of literature germane to child development (theories, research, historical viewpoints, current viewpoints, contemporary trends, assumptions, practices)
- identification and evaluation of the variety of factors that influence children’s development (personal, familial, social)
- knowledge about child development related professions (services, common foundation, opportunities for collaboration)
- practical skills in working with children (assessment instruments, guidance approaches)
- skills required of professionals in the field (interpersonal communication, collaboration, reflection, ethics, personal decision making, advocacy, writing, presenting, and using information technology).

This major focuses on the ever-growing body of knowledge about children and its applications. This interdisciplinary major provides a holistic approach to the study of children, from birth to age 18, and provides the basis for a variety of careers. These include: preschool or elementary teacher; after-school program leader; child abuse prevention worker; civilian employee for military base family/child services, consultant for employer-sponsored child/family program, early childhood special education teacher; home visitor for at-risk families, infant/toddler intervention worker; licensing representative, parent educator; Peace Corps/Americorps volunteer; public policy advocate, recreation leader; researcher; resource and referral coordinator; social worker; special education teacher; youth services coordinator; university professor.

Humboldt’s program is unique among the child development programs in the CSU system in that:
- core courses (which all students take) give cohesive and comprehensive attention to children’s development and socialization;
- an on-campus practicum is required;
- additional practicums with children or families are available in the emphasis areas;
- coursework beyond the core is based on the student’s own identified special interests.

In core courses students learn basic principles and theories of child development as well as practices that support children and families. Students also select one of the following three emphases: Teaching, Child and Family Services, or Specialized Studies emphasis. Within the first two emphases, students select specialization areas while the Specialized Studies is individually designed between student and advisor. For a simplified visual summary of the CD emphasis, go to the Child Development website at humboldt.edu/cdblog.

Preparation
High school students should take courses in history, political science, English, and speech.

Requirements for the major
For a description of degree requirements to be fulfilled in addition to those listed below for the major, please see “The Bachelor’s Degree” section of the catalog, pp. 66-81. The Upper Division Area D General Education requirement is met by the coursework within Liberal Studies: Child Development major.

58-59 units are required depending on the emphasis selected:
- Core for all emphases (34 units), plus one of the following:
  - Teaching (24 - 25 units)
  - Child & Family Services (24 units)

   Child & Family Services Emphasis
   [24 units including emphasis & specialization]

   Required Courses (6 units)
   CD 251 (3) Children, Families and Their Communities
   CD 352 (3) Parent/Child Relationships [DCG-d]

   Emphasis (9 units)
   In consultation with their major advisor, students identify 9 units in a discipline that provide a foundation for their specific interests and specialization. Commonly selected disciplines include American Indian Education, Child Development, Kinesiology, Psychology, Recreation, and Social Work, however other options are also possible. Courses are chosen based on the student’s educational and professional goals.

   Specialization (9 units)
   In consultation with their major advisor, students identify 9 units that are specific to their specific educational and professional goals. Courses may be selected to meet job licensing requirements, certificate requirements, graduate school entrance requirements, professional development opportunities or other specialized needs or interests.

   Specialized Studies Emphasis (24 units total)
   This emphasis is individually designed for students who require specialized preparation and/or post-graduate studies (e.g. child life specialist). Students select 21 units in consultation with their advisor. The program must include:
   CD 482 (1-4) Directed Field Experience/Internship, or
   CD 499 (1-4) Directed Study
   Plus 21 units that provide:
   • a strong disciplinary perspective,
   • a clear theme with regard to practices with children and families, and
   • any known prerequisites for anticipated graduate work.

   This emphasis is typically used by students who have very specific career goals such as child life specialist, speech pathologist, infant/family/early childhood mental health, or family life educator.

Early Childhood CAP Transfer

The Early Childhood CAP [Curriculum Alignment Project] transfer emphasis is designed for students who have completed a CA Curriculum Alignment Project (CAP) approved, 24-unit early childhood transfer package at a California community college. Such students should follow the plan of study below to complete the child development major at Humboldt State within two years of full-time study if lower division coursework is also complete.

CD 255  (3) Early Childhood Development
CD 350  (3) Perspectives: Life-Span Development

Completion of one of the above courses is a prerequisite to all other courses in the minor:

Guidance & Discipline (complete one):
CD 257  (4) Supervised Work with Children I
CD 354  (3) Methods of Observation

Special Needs of Children (complete one):
CD 362  (3) Children & Stress
CD 366  (3) Exceptional Children & Their Families
CD 464  (3) Atypical Child Development

Family Relations (complete one):
CD 251  (3) Children, Families and Their Communities
CD 352  (3) Parent/Child Relations [DCG-d]
CD 467  (3) Working with Culturally Diverse Families [DCG-d]

Child Development Permit
Students who minor in early childhood development may wish to explore requirements for the Child Development Permit, issued by the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing and required for teaching preschool children in state and federally funded programs in California. For permit eligibility and application procedures visit the Child Development Training Consortium’s website at childdevelopment.org or the California Commission on Teacher Credentialing website at ctc.ca.gov/credentials/CREDS/child-dev-permits.html.
